

Experience

I have some experience directly of engaging with our international partners: I attended LYMEC Congresses in April 2021 and November 2023 and an IFLRY Study Session in October 2023 in Budapest. On top of this, I have experience writing international policy: I authored and moved the motion recognizing the Armenian genocide in Winter 2022 and helped on the Ukraine policy paper that summer.

Policy

I want to work on International Committee to ensure we get more International policy passed. We have had little international policy passed recently, and I want to work with other members of the committee and the organisation to rectify this. I hope to take a leading position on policy on the committee.

International Relations

While we maintain good relations with many of our sister parties, especially those in Europe, there are many sister parties in other parts of the world we have yet to engage with. I would like to work to make contact with some of these.

Armenia

The situation in Armenia and Artsakh continues to deteriorate. As a member of the committee, I would seek to continue to monitor this, and represent this work in policy, both in YL and in YL submissions to federal.

@chrislesjohnson